ETHICAL STANDARDS FOR COMPULSIVE GAMBLING COUNSELORS

The Texas Association of Addiction Professionals is comprised of professional compulsive gambling counselors and other addiction professionals who, as responsible health-care professionals, believe in the dignity and worth of human beings. In the practice of their profession they assert that the ethical principles of autonomy, beneficence and justice must guide their professional and societal expectations, obligations and conduct. As professionals dedicated to the treatment of chemical dependent clients and their families, they believe that they can effectively treat its individual and familial manifestations. Addiction Professionals dedicate themselves to the promotion of the best interests of their society, their clients, their profession and their colleagues.

SPECIFIC PRINCIPLES

Principle 1: Nondiscrimination. The compulsive gambling counselor must not discriminate against clients or professionals based on race, religion, age, sex, handicaps, national origin, sexual orientation or economic condition.

Principle 2: Responsibility. The compulsive gambling counselor must espouse objectivity and integrity, and maintain the highest standards in the services the counselor offers.

- a) The compulsive gambling counselor, as teacher, must recognize the counselor's primary obligation to help others acquire knowledge and skill in dealing with the disease of chemical dependency.
- b) The compulsive gambling counselor, as practitioner, must accept the professional challenge and responsibility deriving from the counselor's work.

Principle 3: Competence. The compulsive gambling counselor must recognize that the profession is founded on national standards of competency which promote the best interests of society, the client, the counselor and the profession as a whole. The counselor must recognize the need for ongoing education as a component of professional competency.

- a) The compulsive gambling counselor must prevent the practice of alcoholism and drug abuse counseling by unqualified and/or unauthorized persons.
- b) The compulsive gambling counselor who is aware of unethical conduct or unprofessional modes of practice must report such violations to the appropriate certifying authority.
- c) The compulsive gambling counselor must recognize boundaries and limitations of a counselor's competencies and not offer services or use techniques outside of these professional competencies.
- d) The compulsive gambling counselor must recognize the effect of impairment on professional techniques and must be willing to seek appropriate treatment for oneself or for a colleague. The counselor must support peer assistance programs in this respect.

Principle 4: Legal Standards and Moral Standards. The compulsive gambling counselor must uphold the legal and accepted moral codes which pertain to professional conduct, legal and accepted moral codes of our society.
