TEXAS SYSTEM FOR CERTIFICATION OF PEER RECOVERY SUPPORT SPECIALIST (PRS)

Statement of Purpose

The Peer Recovery Support Specialist (PRS) credential standardizes qualifications of those working in peer recovery support within the field of chemical dependency, mental health, and/or co-occurring disorders. The following PRS credentialing guidelines have been developed by the Texas Certification Board of Addiction Professionals (TCBAP) following proposed IC&RC International Standards.

Statutory Limitations

Certification as a PRS is not to be construed as authorization to charge or collect fees for services rendered if to do so conflicts with any statutory limitations. Where the statute requires that a PRS be supervised by a licensed provider, they shall be so supervised.

Principles

Certain important principles have emerged in regard to this credential.

- Principle 1. This certification is based on a combination of competency and knowledge about advocacy, ethics, mentoring and recovery support to include academic achievement.

- Principle 3. Application for this certification is entirely voluntary.
- Principle 4. Certification is offered to both members and non-members of the Texas Association of Addiction Professionals.

Authority

The authority of the Certification Board is derived from those persons who are dedicated to service as counselors and who are most affected by certification. This authority is embodied in the statewide association of alcohol and drug abuse counselors, the Texas Association of Addiction Professionals, Inc. Recognition of this certification is voluntary. The credibility of this certification results from the standards that are maintained, the performance level established by the Certification Board, and most importantly, the competency and integrity of those holding the certification.

PROCEDURE FOR CODE OF ETHICS COMPLAINTS

TCBAP has a process established to provide an avenue through which persons can file complaints about the ethical conduct of a TCBAP PRS or an applicant to the certification system. This provides a procedure and a forum by which such a professional or applicant may make a good-faith dispute and respond to such complaints. This system is used to adjudicate complaints, which, have been found to be irresolvable through other means. Prior to employing the process, persons are encouraged to attempt to resolve the situation through other means, i.e., personally with the PRS professional or through the PRS professional's supervisor/employing agency. If this means fail or do not satisfactorily resolve the circumstances, the disciplinary review process may be the appropriate vehicle to address the complaint.

Ethic complaints must be submitted in writing and mailed to TCBAP Headquarters at 1005 Congress, Ste. 460, Austin, and TX 78701.
